

Dr Graeme White

Dr Graeme White comes to Insight with a distinguished background in senior leadership roles in the Healthcare, Optical, Pharmaceutical and Not-for-Profit Industries. In his academic career he gained the highest qualifications in the disciplines of science, management and marketing, studying in both Australia and America.

In his roles as a Chief Executive Officer and General Manager, Dr White has transformed organisations through his business acumen and people management skills within a range of commercial entities including billion dollar companies.

He brings this valuable commercial experience to Insight, but also his renowned experience and achievements in the Not-for-Profit Sector, where Dr White embarked on successful stewardship as CEO of Guide Dogs Victoria. His strategic approach and commercial skills greatly enhanced all levels of operation during his tenure.

Invited to become CEO of Guide Dogs NSW/ACT, Dr White introduced formal professional strategic planning, a risk management framework, operational planning processes and launched major service and fundraising growth initiatives.

A measure of his impact on Guide Dogs NSW/ACT is the organisation's status as Reader's Digest 'Most trusted Charity Brand' for multiple years.

Dr White has also served with distinction as Deputy Chair, Treasurer and Director of the International Guide Dogs Federation.

A champion for the disadvantaged, Dr White successfully advocated to the Federal Government and National Disability Insurance Agency for inclusion of people with vision loss in the National Disability Insurance Scheme.

Dr White is a valued member of our Board for his combined expertise and wise counsel in the commercial field and Not-for-Profit sector focussed on the blind and vision impaired.
